1. Product Overview

The SureShape™ moldable splint is a highly versatile, lightweight medical device used for immobilizing bone and soft tissue injuries. Often referred to as a "pocket cast," it is staple in emergency medicine, wilderness survival, and first aid kits due to its unique balance of flexibility and strength.

- Construction: A thin core of soft aluminum alloy sandwiched between two layers of closed-cell foam.
- Radiolucent: It does not need to be removed for X-rays.
- Waterproof: The foam exterior is non-absorbent and easy to clean.
- Compact: It can be rolled or folded for storage in small trauma kits.
